Cumpliendo expectativas

Revisamos estimaciones de Gigas Hosting tras los resultados del tercer trimestre y la adquisición de AHP en Portugal. La evolución del año indica que los ingresos están yendo ligeramente por debajo de lo estimado, mientras que el EBITDA está en línea. De esta manera nuestro margen EBITDA es superior a nuestras estimaciones y al presupuesto. Por otro lado el Capex está siendo inferior a lo esperado. Con todo ello obtenemos una valoración de 10.5€/acción y mantenemos nuestra recomendación en COMPRAR.

- ✓ Sólidos resultados: La compañía durante 2019 lleva presentando unos resultados en línea con el presupuesto anunciado a inicios del año, cumpliendo expectativas y objetivos de manera sostenida. Todo ello pese a algún hecho no esperado como la pérdida de un partner que hizo perder varios clientes de Cloud Datacenter de alta facturación.
- ✓ Guidance 2019: la previsión para FY2019 es crecer un 18% en net revenues (vs +22% en Budget) y un 50% en EBITDA (vs un 58% en Budget). El crecimiento es ligeramente inferior impactado por los gastos extraordinarios derivados de la adquisición de AHP y por el plan de stock options aprobado en 2019. Excluyendo dichos efectos el crecimiento de EBITDA sería superior al 65% vs 2018.
- ✓ Generación de caja: La compañía genera caja de manera recurrente y en el FY2019 la estimación está en superar los 2 millones de euros de FCF operativo (vs 1 millón en 2018).
- ✓ Compañía transparente: La compañía continua presentando resultados trimestralmente pese a no estar obligada a ello y lo hace de una manera profunda y clara, abriendo incluso turnos de preguntas a inversores y analistas. Esto, unido al track record de la compañía, nos hace tener confianza en el devenir futuro de la misma.
- ✓ Crecimiento inorgánico: Tras la adquisición del operador portugués AHP (que traerá aproximadamente 1 millón de euros de facturación anual y, de éstos, un 25% de EBITDA), la compañía eleva sus objetivos y ha anunciado que su estrategia de M&A pasará por operadores de mayor tamaño.
- ✓ Cambio de estimaciones: Nuestra valoración sube ligeramente hasta los 10.5 euros por acción gracias a un impacto positivo en ingresos y EBITDA por la adquisición de AHP que compensa un pequeño recorte en las estimaciones por los resultados de 2019. Adicionalmente hay un impacto positivo por el recorte del capex incurrido por la compañía que hace mejorar sustancialmente la generación de caja.
- ✓ Por todo ello mantenemos nuestra recomendación de COMPRAR y consideramos que la compañía tiene un alto potencial de crecimiento orgánico e inorgánico ya que se verá inmersa en procesos de M&A tanto como parte compradora como, eventualmente, vendedora.

Investment Case

Recordamos que Gigas Hosting tiene dos líneas de negocio claramente diferenciadas

- I. Cloud Datacenter (20% clientes, 91% ingresos 2019e). Solución dirigida a empresas de tamaño medio/grande que buscan flexibilidad y materializar eficiencias mediante la reducción de costes y la variabilización de los mismos. El producto se contrata tanto mediante canal directo (fuerza de ventas propia) como indirecto (red comercial/terceros) dándose cierta negociación y aplicación de descuentos en función del tiempo de contrato. Gigas ofrece un conjunto de recursos (RAM, memoria y almacenamiento) con los que replicar un datacenter físico en un entorno virtual. Existe la posibilidad de adicionar otras características complementarias y diferenciadoras como son firewall, balanceador de carga, VPN, VLAN entre otras.
- II. Cloud VPS (Virtual Private Server, 80% clientes, 9% ingresos 2019e). Se trata de una solución cloud compuesta por una única máquina virtual dirigida a diseñadores y developers, profesionales del ámbito del e-commerce y bloggers, desarrolladores de aplicaciones móviles, PYMEs, resellers y freelancers. Este abanico de potenciales clientes se corresponde con el low/mid-market y contratan el producto a través del canal directo online (web de Gigas).

La estrategia de la compañía se basa actualmente en centrarse en clientes Cloud VPS de mayor tamaño (y por consiguiente mayor ARPU) primando el valor sobre el volumen. Esto está trayendo como consecuencia que el número de clientes de este tipo se está reduciendo en los últimos trimestres, no obstante el ARPU medio de dichos clientes está aumentando.

Con respecto a los clientes Cloud Datacenter, la compañía está focalizando sus esfuerzos en aumentar el número y el valor de los mismos.

La compañía mantiene un crecimiento constante durante todo 2019 en línea con el presupuesto y confiamos en su buena evolución futura dada la gran oportunidad de mercado que hay y el buen nombre que Gigas se está ganando en el mercado.

La alta visibilidad que la compañía ofrece sobre sus resultados y previsiones hace que las fluctuaciones de la acción no sean muy elevadas y hace falta algo más de delivery (en 2020) para ver la cotización de la empresa crecer.

Dicho esto, hemos revisado nuestras estimaciones incorporando varios efectos:

- la adquisición del operador portugués AHP, que aportará (según lo publicado en el Hecho Relevante de la adquisición) aproximadamente un millón de euros anuales de facturación y un 20% de margen EBITDA.
- los últimos resultados trimestrales, que son ligeramente inferiores a lo esperado en el presupuesto dado que como hemos comentado, la compañía informó de la pérdida de un partner que traía consigo varios clientes de Cloud Datacenter. No obstante, el crecimiento orgánico de la compañía continúa siendo robusto.
- Una reducción del capex sobre ventas para adecuarse a la realidad actual y futura de la empresa.
- Una revisión de los impuestos a pagar por la compañía, incluyendo en nuestro DCF un 25% de pago de impuestos, y a su vez incluyendo el valor actual de los activos fiscales que la compañía tiene registrados en balance.

Hemos ajustado ligeramente a la baja las estimaciones para 2019 dada la evolución ya comentada de la compañía durante el año. La compañía cerrará 2019 prácticamente en línea con el presupuesto y con un impacto de la compra de AHP muy limitado.

Para 2020e y siguientes los ingresos recogen el impacto de la adquisición y el margen EBITDA va mejorando tras la caída del margen estimada para 2019e hasta llegar a un valor terminal estimado del 31% frente al 29% anterior.

El capex se mantiene en niveles del 9-10% durante todo el modelo frente al 10-11% del modelo anterior, tras los resultados y la visión de la compañía de las inversiones a futuro, lo cual impacta positivamente en la valoración.

DCF

Estimamos una WACC del 8.2% y una g del 3% para alcanzar los 10.47€/acción de valoración con un peso del terminal value del 75% y un EV/EBITDA de 11.5x en el último año de valoración.

Market tip: Europa despierta de su letargo

Recientemente veíamos publicado en prensa que la Comisión Europea estaba ultimando un plan para reforzar el poder de Europa en el negocio de los datos.

El objetivo es impedir que los monopolios en el acceso y manejo de los datos se conviertan en una barrera que impida crecer a sus empresas y depender de un socio como EE UU.

La idea es alertar del peligro de la dependencia de firmas radicadas en terceros países y de la ausencia de empresas europeas con el tamaño suficiente para competir en un sector altamente concentrado y con mínimos resquicios para la entrada de nuevos jugadores.

Bruselas está preocupada porque, según fuentes comunitarias, quien dispone de esos datos tiene una gran ventaja competitiva que, sin control, puede barrer al resto del mercado. Según un estudio del think tank CEPS, el 92% de los datos generados en el mundo occidental están custodiados por empresas norteamericanas, frente a un ínfimo 4% que está en Europa. Para tratar de dar un impulso, la presidencia de turno de la Unión organizó en Helsinki una conferencia de alto nivel con los mayores expertos del sector en la cual se instó a los países miembros a aumentar sus presupuestos destinados a las tecnologías digitales. El objetivo: que Europa pueda tener su trozo de la tarta en el negocio de los datos digitales.

Noticias como ésta son muy beneficiosas para empresas como Gigas Hosting, ya sea desde el fomento de contratación de empresas europeas por parte de los reguladores, ya sea porque se favorezcan procesos de consolidación europeos que hagan ganar tamaño a las empresas que actualmente operan en la Unión Europea.

ESN Recommendation System

The ESN Recommendation System is Absolute. It means that each stock is rated on the basis of a total return, measured by the upside potential (including dividends and capital reimbursement) over a 12 month time horizon.

The ESN spectrum of recommendations (or ratings) for each stock comprises 5 categories: Buy (B), Accumulate (A), Neutral (N), Reduce (R) and Sell (S).

Furthermore, in specific cases and for a limited period of time, the analysts are allowed to rate the stocks as Rating Suspended (RS) or Not Rated (NR), as explained below.

Meaning of each recommendation or rating:

- Buy: the stock is expected to generate total return of over 15% during the next 12 months time horizon
- Accumulate: the stock is expected to generate total return of 5% to 15% during the next 12 months time horizon
- Neutral: the stock is expected to generate total return of -5% to +5% during the next 12 months time horizon
- Reduce: the stock is expected to generate total return of -5% to -15% during the next 12 months time horizon
- Sell: the stock is expected to generate total return under -15% during the next 12 months time horizon
- Rating Suspended: the rating is suspended due to a change of analyst covering the stock or a capital operation (take-over bid, SPO, ...) where the issuer of the document (a partner of ESN) or a related party of the issuer is or could be involved
- Not Rated: there is no rating for a company being floated (IPO) by the issuer of the document (a partner of ESN) or a related party of the issuer

Certain flexibility on the limits of total return bands is permitted especially during higher phases of volatility on the markets
