According to Giga COO and co-founder José Antonio Arribas, "this agreement is in line with our strategy of partnering with leaders that know the market well and are committed to their customers' technological innovation". He added, "pooling Altran's services with ours as a global cloud provider, with state-of-the-art technology that is renowned in the market, is good news for end customers".

"For a company like Altran, where customer service excellence is the top priority, working with a cloud services provider like Gigas, where quality is also a core value, means working with the ideal partner. The synergies are huge." said Gloria Pérez Cortés, Solutions and IT Transformation Manager in the Telecom, Media and Services division at Altran Spain.
